The Regimentary Count Poniatowski was at Frauſtadt, as was alſo his Brother in Law Prince Czartorinski Vice-Chancellor of Lithuania, who went both away very much diſſatisfied at their not being able to obtain that Palatinate for the Father of the latter, who is Caſtellan of Vilna. The Grand Marſhal of Poland is on the Road in his Way hither from Warſaw, to ſtay during the Encampment; as is alſo Prince Wieſnowieski Great Chancellor and Regimentary of Lithuania. His Majeſty has named General Wackerbach to be his Felt Marſhal in Saxony, and made the Preſident of the Conſiſtory M. Bunow Privy Councellor, and given the Preſidency to M. Lohs, Brother to the Maſter of the Horſe to his Majeſty. Great Preparations are making here for the intended Encampment, which remains fixed for the 1ſt of June, and the Grand Review to be that Day; but it is generally believed that it will be put off till the Middle of that Month, it being impoſſible that all can be got ready ſooner. The King of Poland goes to Leipſick Fair on Friday next, and as is ſaid will not return hither till the Encampment is formed; all the Court will attend his Majeſty thither, as will alſo the Foreign Miniſters.
